

Sponsoring Body of the Institute of Shipping Economics and Logistics e.V.

1 December 1982 - Founded by well-known representatives of German shipping companies in Bremen

Today, in addition to shipping companies, numerous companies and individuals closely associated with maritime industry and logistics are members of the Sponsoring Body. Their interest lies in promoting and supporting scientific research in maritime logistics both in an ideological as well as material manner by contributing ideas and experience.

Become a member of the sponsoring body

Support the Institute's scientific research and internal development and thus reinforce its globally recognized reputation and position as one of the leading institutions in the field of maritime logistics. The support aims at enabling preliminary scientific research, advancing the internal development of ISL and increasing the visibility of the Institute by way of:

01

Financing selected sponsoring body projects with the possibility of participation in the topics of research.

02

Supporting initiatives that promote training and education in the fields of maritime economics and logistics.

03

Financially supporting fundamental scientific research in the fields of maritime economics and logistics.

03

Disseminating research results to the public.
